Night Business Classes Start At Harbor Feb. 1

Business Law, Introduction to Business, Business English, and Business Computations are among the many practical courses offered in the evenings during the Spring Semester at Harbor College starting the week of Feb. 1.

The Business Law classes still open are taught by practicing attorneys, according to Robert G. Wrenn, chairman of the Business Division.

Business Law I, which is offered on Monday from 6:30 to 9:30 and Thursday from 6:30 to 9:30, includes instruction on topics of legal rights and remedies, contracts, agency, employment, negotiable instrument, personal property, bailments, transportation, and sales of goods.

Business Law II, which is being offered on Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 9:30, involves the topics of insurance, suretyship and guaranty, partnership, corporations, real property, mortgages, leases, trusts and estates, bankruptcy, and business torts and crimes.

Business 38, is being offered on Monday and Tuesday evenings from 6:30 to 9:30. It includes the study of application of percentage, cash and trade discounts, markup, interest calculations, payroll computations, installment buying, graphs, and insurance to business.

APPLICATIONS for admission for the Spring Semester are now being accepted at the Admissions Office of the College, 1111 Figueroa Pl., Wilmington. All persons planning to attend Harbor during the Spring Semester must apply before Jan. 22, 1965.

Any high school graduate or person who has reached 18 years of age who can profit from instruction may attend. All courses are tuition-free to California residents.
